NOTICE TO UNITHOLDERS

Dear Unitholders

On 11 October 2019, the Greater China ETF issued (i) an addendum dated 11 October 2019 (the “Addendum”) to the prospectus, as amended by the addenda dated 18 March 2013, 31 December 2014, 30 April 2015, 28 April 2016, 13 September 2016, 28 February 2017 and 24 April 2018 (collectively, the “Prospectus”) in relation to Greater China ETF and (ii) a revised product key facts statement of the Greater China ETF dated October 2019 (the “Revised KFS”) to effect the changes described below.

Unless otherwise defined in this notice, terms and expressions used in this notice shall have the same meanings ascribed to them under the Prospectus.

1 Inclusion of A-Shares

FTSE, the index provider of the FTSE[®] Greater China HKD Index (“Underlying Index”), has announced that A shares will be included in the FTSE Global Equity Index Series, to which the Underlying Index belongs to. With effect from 23 March 2020, securities designated as A shares which are listed on the Shanghai Stock Exchange and Shenzhen Stock Exchange will be included into the underlying index universe of Greater China ETF.

The Manager considers that the inclusion of A shares does not: (i) amount to a material change to the Greater China ETF or its investment objectives, policies and restrictions, (ii) amount to a material change or increase in the overall risk profile of the Greater China ETF, and (iii) have a material adverse impact on unitholders’ rights and interests.

The Prospectus and Revised KFS for Greater China ETF have been updated to reflect the inclusion of A shares in the Underlying Index which will have effect from 23 March 2020, and corresponding disclosures in relation to the index methodology, Stock Connect, A shares and other PRC related risks which will also have effect from 23 March 2020.

2 New risk factor relating to United States Resolution Stay Rules (“USRS Rules”)

The Prospectus has been updated to provide a new risk factor relating to the USRS Rules, which may affect the Greater China ETF. The USRS Rules are a set of rules published by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association that are intended to enable parties to ISDA Master Agreements and similar protocol covered agreements to contractually recognise the cross-border application of special resolution regimes applicable to global systemically important entities and their affiliates.

Please refer to the Addendum for the relevant risk related to the USRS Rules.

3 Updates in relation to index data

The Prospectus and Revised KFS have been updated to provide updated index data (including the top 10 largest constituent stocks by weighting) relating to the Underlying Index as at 30 September 2019.

The Prospectus (together with the addenda) and the Revised KFS are available at the Greater China ETF’s website: www.spdrs.com.hk/etf/fund/fund_detail_3073_EN.html¹.
