

SPDR® Gold Shares ETF Capital Markets Perspective

2840 HK

December 2019

With more than US$ 43bn of in assets¹, SPDR® Gold Shares is the largest Gold ETF in the World. It is also the first ETF domiciled in the United States to have been cross-listed on the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong (SEHK). Listed in Hong Kong Dollars, SPDR® Gold Shares (2840 HK) has been trading since July 2008. More than eleven years later, 2840 HK is one of the most traded ETFs on the SEHK and its liquidity offers can compel potential benefits for investors.

On-exchange Liquidity

2840 HK is the most traded Gold ETF on the SEHK with HK$ 9.5bn of turnover over the last 12 months.¹ In December 2019, 2840 HK had a turnover of HK$ 688m, more than 15 times the turnover of the Hong Kong Dollars listing of Value Gold ETF (3081 HK). Across all available Gold ETF listings on the SEHK, 2840 HK represented more than 93% of the total turnover in December 2019.²

All forms of investments carry risks, including the risk of losing all of the invested amount. Such activities may not be suitable for everyone.

ETFs trade like stocks, are subject to investment risk, fluctuate in market value and may trade at prices above or below the ETFs net asset value. Brokerage commissions and ETF expenses will reduce returns.

Frequent trading of ETFs could significantly increase commissions and other costs such that they may offset any savings from low fees or costs.

These investments may have difficulty in liquidating an investment position without taking a significant discount from current market value, which can be a significant problem with certain lightly traded securities.

Investing in commodities entail significant risk and is not appropriate for all investors. Commodities investing entail significant risk as commodity prices can be extremely volatile due to wide range of factors. A few such factors include overall market movements, real or perceived inflationary trends, commodity index volatility, international, economic and political changes, change in interest and currency exchange rates.
