

Combating Climate Change

Climate change is the #1 top priority of the 3000+ UN PRI signatories. To prevent warming beyond 1.5°C, emissions need to be reduced by 43% by 2030.¹

Climate Change is Here

Carbon emissions from energy use are rising at the fastest rate since 2011.²

And It's an Investment Issue

We believe the transition to a low-carbon economy will create substantial opportunities and radically transform the investment landscape.

75% of the world's greenhouse gases are carbon dioxide, largely the product of burning fossil fuels.³

30M people employed in the fossil fuel sector.⁶

20 of the warmest years in recorded history occurred in the last 22 years.⁴

$1T estimated windfall from the energy transition, potentially much more once all positive externalities are included.⁷

1M+ species are at risk of extinction by climate change.⁵

17M+ estimated extra jobs required by 2030 as the world transitions to renewable energy.⁸

We believe climate change is one of the largest risks in portfolios today. With the right approach, it also presents one of the greatest investment opportunities.
