To help investors meet investment needs and objectives, we offer a wide spectrum of investment strategies from which our clients may choose. Whether our clients are focused on risk management, responding to new regulations, making investments that align with their values, or seeking to enhance long-term performance, our sustainable investing capabilities can support clients in achieving their sustainable investing objectives and investment goals.

Our sustainable investing solutions vary depending on the type of strategy provided to our clients, but generally fall into one of three broad categories:

- 1 Negative Screening A “Negative Screen” (also known as an exclusionary screen) is a screen incorporated into the investment strategy that results in the exclusion of securities of issuers that fail to satisfy certain sustainability criteria. Negative Screens include, but are not limited to, State Street Investment Management’s Point of View (“POV”) screens, norms-based screens, socially responsible Investing (SRI) screens, and screens provided by clients or other third-parties.
- 2 Positive Screening A “Positive Screen” is a screen incorporated into the investment strategy that intentionally includes securities of issuers identified as having positive sustainability characteristics (including positive characteristics of sub-components of sustainability such as environmental, climate or social characteristics) relative to the issuer’s industry or sector peers. Positive Screens include, but are not limited to, targeting an overall improvement of a portfolio’s sustainability profile as compared to a benchmark or stated investment guideline, measured in sustainability scores or metrics, or investing in issuers within an industry or sector that score higher relative to its peers.

- 3 Third Party ESG/Sustainable Index Investment Strategies An index is deemed to be a “Third Party ESG/Sustainable Index” if the index methodology incorporates ESG/sustainability factors or characteristics that are utilized by the third-party index provider to determine which securities and/or their weight are included as index constituents.

Active Strategies With respect to the management of our clients’ portfolios in active strategies, we believe sustainability factors should be considered alongside traditional investment factors when making investment decisions to develop a more complete picture of the future financial trajectory and business risks of companies and issuers. We believe this practice allows issuers to more fully demonstrate their value proposition to investors and the market to appropriately value an issuer’s securities. Sustainability factors may cause either a negative or positive impact on a variety of financial metrics. In addition, we recognize that some sustainability-related risks and opportunities are likely to materialize over longer term time horizons. Finally, the degree to which these factors may drive future business results may or may not be well recognized in the market. Therefore, we believe it is important to assess these factors as part of a comprehensive assessment of the value of an investment, as applicable, depending on the investment strategy. However, unless specifically disclosed to investors in a strategy, sustainability factors are not material to the way the investment strategy is managed and are not necessarily determinative of investment selection.
