

SPDR® S&P®/ASX 200 Resources Fund

Key Features

- Relatively Low Cost¹
- Tradability
- Transparency of Performance
- Diversification²

¹ Frequent trading of ETFs could significantly increase commissions and other costs such that they may offset any savings from low fees or costs.

² Diversification does not protect against loss.

Fund Objective

The SPDR S&P/ASX 200 Resources Fund seeks to closely track, before fees and expenses, the returns of the S&P/ASX 200 Resources Index.

Index Description

Fund Performance is the Total Return, representing the sum of the Growth (or Price) Return and Distribution Return.

Past Performance is not a reliable indicator of future results.

Performance returns for periods of less than one year are not annualised and have been calculated based on changes in the net asset value of the Fund rather than the last quoted price. Performance is shown net of management fees and costs but does not reflect the brokerage fees or the bid/ask spread that investors pay to buy and sell ETF securities on the Australian Securities Exchange. Distributions are assumed to be reinvested under the Dividend Reinvestment Program (DRP). Investment returns and principal value will fluctuate, so you may have a gain or loss when units are sold. Current performance may be higher or lower than that quoted.

The index returns reflect all items of income, gain and loss and the reinvestment of dividends (net of withholding tax) and other income. The index returns are unmanaged and do not reflect the deduction of any fees or expenses.

Issued by State Street Global Advisors, Australia Services Limited (AFSL Number 274900, ABN 16 108 671 441) ("SSGA, ASL"). Registered office: Level 14, 420 George Street, Sydney, NSW 2000, Australia · Telephone: 612 9240-7600 · Web: www.ssga.com.

SSGA, ASL is the issuer of interests and the Responsible Entity for the ETFs which are Australian registered managed investment schemes quoted on the AQUA market of the ASX or listed on the ASX.

This material is general information only and does not take into account your individual objectives, financial situation or needs and you should consider whether it is appropriate for you. You should seek professional advice and consider the product disclosure document and target market determination, available at www.ssga.com, before deciding whether to acquire or continue to hold units in an ETF. This material should not be considered a solicitation to buy or sell a security. ETFs trade like stocks, are subject to investment risk, fluctuate in market value and may trade at prices above or below the ETF's net asset value. ETFs typically invest by sampling an index, holding a range of securities that, in the aggregate, approximates the full index in terms of key risk factors and other characteristics. This may cause the fund to experience tracking errors relative to performance of the index. Brokerage commissions and ETF expenses will reduce returns. Risks associated with equity investing include stock values which may fluctuate in response to the activities of individual companies and general market and economic conditions. Concentrated investments in a particular sector or industry tend to be more volatile than the overall market and increases risk that events negatively affecting such sectors or industries could reduce returns, potentially causing the value of the Fund's shares to decrease. Investing involves risk including the risk of loss of principal. Diversification does not ensure a profit or guarantee against loss. Sector ETF products are also subject to sector risk and non-diversification risk, which generally results in greater price fluctuations than the overall market.
