1. The Application and Redemption Facilities

Each Fund provides a cash application and redemption facility. Eligible applicants and eligible Unitholders may submit application and redemption requests for a Fund, other than on the restricted dates as set out below. The application and redemption facilities are designed to reduce the likelihood that Units in a Fund will trade on ASX at a significant premium or discount to the relevant net asset value per Unit. Through the facility, eligible Stockbrokers are able to effectively take advantage of arbitrage opportunities where a premium or discount applies.

Only Stockbrokers acting as principal may submit application requests for Units in a Fund. Only Unitholders who are Qualifying Australian Residents and Stockbrokers, may submit redemption requests in relation to Units in a Fund.

In kind applications and redemptions are available on request.

Cash applications and redemptions

The Responsible Entity has no obligation to accept a cash application or a cash redemption request. In particular, the Responsible Entity might reject a cash application or redemption request if the market for the assets in which the Fund invests becomes illiquid or difficult to price, or is otherwise subject to market stress. From time to time, the Responsible Entity may determine to close the cash application and cash redemption facilities for a Fund.

Where an application to invest or redeem for cash is received before the Cut-off Time on a trading day, the Investment Manager will acquire or dispose of a suitable parcel of securities by close of trading on relevant markets on that day, and inform the applicant of the securities acquired or disposed of on the following day.

The securities purchased or sold in respect of any given application or redemption may be only a representative sample of securities from the relevant Index that may not match either the Index or the underlying holdings of a Fund, and may include significantly fewer securities than in the Index. The Investment Manager may select securities in this way to reduce costs for applicants, while achieving a similar outcome for the applicant and a Fund because of the representative nature of the sample.

Where securities are acquired or transferred in connection with either a cash or in specie application or redemption, information about the components of the parcel will be published on the website at www.spdrs.com.au as close as possible to the same time as the applicant or redeeming Unitholder receives the details of the parcel components.

Timing

Applications and redemptions for Units will settle at the Settlement Time on the third ASX Business Day after we receive the application (T+2).

Applications and redemption requests received before the Cut-off Time applicable to the relevant category of transaction on an ASX Business Day are treated as being received on the day they are received. Applications and redemption requests received after the Cut-off Time applicable to the relevant category of transaction on an ASX Business Day, or on a day that is not an ASX Business Day, are treated as being received on the next ASX Business Day after the day they are received.

1.1 ASX Trading and Settlement Procedures

Stockbrokers should ensure that they are familiar with the ASX's ETF procedures before applying for, or redeeming Units in a Fund.

Settlement of Unit issues and redemptions must be effected through CHESS in accordance with the ASX Settlement Rules.

1.2 Restricted dates

Until further notice the Responsible Entity will treat as not valid and reject Application Forms and Redemption Forms received in respect of each Fund during the period where the T+2 settlement date for those applications and redemptions would otherwise occur in the next financial year after the application or redemption form was received; and

The Responsible Entity may treat as not valid and reject Application Forms and Redemption Forms received in respect of each Fund during the period commencing on the Cut-off Time on the ASX Business Day before the date at which Units in the Fund are officially quoted on an ex-entitlement basis to the Cut-off Time on the last ASX Business Day of the relevant distribution period.

Generally, the price of Units in a Fund on the market can be expected to trade close to the underlying net asset value per Unit for the Fund. However, around the restricted dates (among other times), the price and value may move further apart because Stockbrokers are not able to engage in arbitrage through the Unit issue and redemption process.

Additional restrictions may apply to cash applications and redemptions. Each ASX Business Day, the Responsible Entity will, before open of trading, announce to ASX and on its website whether it intends to accept cash applications and cash redemptions that day, and, if so, what the Transaction Fee will be for cash applications and redemptions received that day. Even if the Responsible Entity announces that it intends to accept cash applications and redemptions for a particular ASX Business Day, it reserves the right at all times to refuse any request for a cash application or a cash redemption.

1.3 Issue Price Calculation

The Issue Price for each Fund is calculated at the Valuation Time each ASX Business Day, as follows:

$$\frac{\text{Net Asset Value of the Class}}{\text{Number of Units in Issue in the Class}}$$

In addition to the Issue Price, an applicant for Units must pay the Coupon Accrual Adjustment. The Coupon Accrual Adjustment for a cash application reflects the income or interest attributable to the portfolio of securities purchased in respect of the application, for the period between the time as at which the Issue Price is calculated and the time the Unit issue settles.

The Responsible Entity will notify applicants of the Coupon Accrual Adjustment by T+1.

The Net Asset Value for a Fund is calculated by deducting from the aggregate value of the assets of the Fund all accrued fees and other costs, liabilities and provisions relating to the Fund. Fees and other costs for each Fund, including the Responsible Entity's fees, are accrued daily. Fees and other costs for each Fund are detailed in section 6 of the PDS.

For the purposes of calculating the Issue Price for Units in a Fund, the number of Units in the Fund on issue as at the Valuation Time on an ASX Business Day includes Units in the Fund which are to be issued and excludes Units in the Fund which are to be redeemed under valid completed application forms and completed redemption forms received in respect of the Fund by the Administrator before the Cut-off Time on the previous ASX Business Day.

1.4 Redemption Price and Withdrawal Amount Calculation

The Withdrawal Amount for each Fund is determined at the time of redemption. It is calculated based on the net asset value of the relevant Fund in accordance with the formula set out below.

The components of the Withdrawal Amount for a Fund are the aggregate of the Redemption Price for the Fund and the Withdrawal Unit Income Entitlement for the Fund.

The split between the above components of the Withdrawal Amount for a redemption from a Fund are not known until after the financial year end because the Withdrawal Unit Income Entitlement for the Fund represents a distribution of the taxable income of the Fund based on the gains arising for the Fund in connection with the Redemption Parcels transferred to the redeeming Unitholder or the disposal of assets to pay the Withdrawal Amount during the financial year as well as a share of the taxable income of the Fund in the distribution period in which redemption occurs (after adjustments for losses).

The Withdrawal Unit Income Entitlement for each Fund is explained further below. The entitlement of a redeeming Unitholder in a particular Fund to the Withdrawal Unit Income Entitlement (if any) and the Redemption Price in respect of a redeemed Unit in that Fund is satisfied by the payment from the Fund of cash equal to the Withdrawal Amount plus the Coupon Accrual Adjustment less the Transaction Fee.

Completed Redemption Forms for a Fund that are received before the Cut-off Time on an ASX Business Day are processed at the Withdrawal Amount for the Fund calculated as at the Valuation Time on that day. Completed Redemption Forms for a Fund that are received on or after the Cut-off Time on an ASX Business Day, or on a non-ASX Business Day, are processed at the Withdrawal Amount for the Fund calculated as at the Valuation Time on the next ASX Business Day.

The Withdrawal Amount for each Fund as at the Valuation Time for each ASX Business Day is calculated as follows:

$$\frac{\text{Net Asset Value of the Class}}{\text{Number of Units in Issue in the Class}}$$

In addition to the Withdrawal Amount, a redeeming Unitholder is entitled to receive the Coupon Accrual Adjustment. The Coupon Accrual Adjustment for a cash redemption reflects the income or interest attributable to the portfolio of securities sold in respect of the redemption for the period between the time as at which the Withdrawal Amount is calculated and the time the redemption settles.

The Responsible Entity will notify redeeming Unitholders of the Coupon Accrual Adjustment by T+1.

The Net Asset Value for a Fund is calculated by deducting from the aggregate value of the assets of the Fund all accrued fees and other costs, liabilities and provisions relating to the Fund. Fees and other costs for each Fund, including the Responsible Entity's fees, are accrued daily. Fees and other costs for each Fund are detailed in section 6 of the PDS.

For the purposes of calculating the Withdrawal Amount for a Fund, the number of Units in the Fund on issue as at the Valuation Time on an ASX Business Day includes Units in the Fund which are to be issued and excludes Units in the Fund which are to be redeemed under valid completed Application Forms and completed Redemption Forms received in respect of the Fund by the Administrator before the Cut-off Time on the previous ASX Business Day.

The Issue Price and Withdrawal Amount for each Fund are calculated in the same manner and therefore, in respect of each Fund, have the same value at any particular time.

The aggregate Withdrawal Amount due in respect of a cash redemption (plus the Coupon Accrual Adjustment minus the Transaction Fee) will be paid wholly in cash.

1.5 Distributions on Redemption — Withdrawal Unit Income Entitlement

Each Fund's Constitution contains complex provisions regarding the distribution of income on redemption. For a detailed understanding of a Fund's Constitution, potential investors in the Fund should consult a copy of the Fund's Constitution, which is available free of charge from the Investment Manager. Potential investors in a Fund should also obtain professional advice in relation to the taxation consequences of redemptions in the Fund, which may be different to the taxation consequences of selling Units in the Fund on ASX.

Each Fund's Constitution contains provisions which, in broad terms, seek to allocate to redeeming Unitholders gains arising for the Fund as a result of the Redemption Parcels transferred to the redeeming Unitholders or the disposal of assets to pay the Withdrawal Amounts, as well as a share of the taxable income of the Fund in the distribution period in which redemption occurs (after adjustments for losses). This amount is referred to as the Withdrawal Unit Income Entitlement.

On redemption of a Unit in a Fund, the Unitholder is entitled to receive the Withdrawal Unit Income Entitlement for the Fund (if any) as well as the Redemption Price for the Fund.

The aggregate of the Redemption Price for a Fund and Withdrawal Unit Income Entitlement for the Fund in respect of a Unit is referred to as the Withdrawal Amount for a Unit in the Fund.

The entitlement of a redeeming Unitholder in a Fund to the Withdrawal Unit Income Entitlement for the Fund (if any), and Redemption Price for the Fund in respect of a redeemed Unit in the Fund is satisfied by the payment of the Withdrawal Amount for that Unit.

Whilst the aggregate of the Withdrawal Unit Income Entitlement and Redemption Price for each Fund (i.e. the Withdrawal Amount) is determinable at the time of redemption, the tax components in respect of the Withdrawal Unit Income Entitlement will be advised to the Unitholder after 30 June, in the annual tax statement, once the final tax calculations for each Fund for that year have been completed.

Special attribution accounts are maintained by the Responsible Entity in respect of each redeeming Unitholder in each Fund for each financial year to determine the extent of the gains and losses arising for the Fund as a result of each Unitholder's redemption activities and the share of other income allocated to each redeeming Unitholder on redemption.

1.6 Liquidity and suspension of redemptions

The redemption procedures described in this Reference Guide apply while each Fund is "liquid" within the meaning of the Corporations Act. Based on the investment strategies of each Fund, the Responsible Entity believes that each Fund will remain liquid. If a Fund becomes non-liquid, in accordance with the Corporations Act redemptions for that Fund will only be possible by pro rata withdrawal offer.

In addition, each Fund's Constitution allows the Responsible Entity to suspend the redemption of Units in the Fund where trading in relevant markets is restricted or suspended, there are settlement difficulties or it would be in the best interests of Unitholders to do so.

In satisfying a redemption request the Responsible Entity is not obliged to pay any part of the Redemption Price out of its own funds or transfer its own assets.

1.7 Dissemination of the Application Parcel, Redemption Parcel, Issue Price, Withdrawal Amount, and Number of Units

The Issue Price and Withdrawal Amount calculated for each Fund for an ASX Business Day are generally issued by the Administrator before open of trading on the next ASX Business Day.

The Application Parcel and Redemption Parcel will be advised to applicants and published as described in section 1 on page 4.

The Investment Manager publishes for each ASX Business Day the net asset value per Unit for each Fund (used for determining the Issue Price and Withdrawal Amount for each Fund) on the website at spdrs.com.au.

Each Fund's portfolio will be publicly available on the website on a daily basis.

1.8 Execution Procedures — Issue of Units

The Administrator issues an Acknowledgement of Receipt by telephone or e-mail to all applicants for Units in each Fund that lodge valid application forms, except on the restricted dates noted above. If a completed application form for Units in a Fund is received before the Cut-off Time on an ASX Business Day, the Administrator issues the Acknowledgement of Receipt on the ASX Business Day on which the completed application form is received by the Administrator. If the completed Application Form for Units in a Fund is received at or after the Cut-off Time or on a non-ASX Business Day, the Acknowledgement of Receipt will be issued on the next ASX Business Day.

An issue of Units under a cash application will not be an ETF Special Trade under the ASX Operating Rules.

The Responsible Entity may reject any cash application for Units. In particular, the Responsible Entity might do this if the market for the assets in which the Fund invests becomes illiquid or difficult to price. From time to time, and particularly during periods of market stress, the Responsible Entity may determine to close the cash application facility for a Fund. Each ASX Business Day, the Responsible Entity will, before open of trading, announce whether it intends to accept cash applications for each Fund that day. However, even if it announces an intention to accept cash applications, the Responsible Entity may reject any cash application that day. The Responsible Entity will attempt to notify you as soon as practicable if it rejects an application.

1.9 Execution Procedures — Redemption of Units

Redemption requests for each Fund may only be made by completing a Redemption Form. The same execution and acknowledgement procedures relating to each Fund apply for redemptions as for applications. The Responsible Entity may reject a redemption request in relation to a Fund in certain circumstances - see the sections above dealing with restricted dates and liquidity. In particular, the Responsible Entity may reject any cash redemption request. The Responsible Entity might do this if the market for the assets in which the Fund invests becomes illiquid or difficult to price. From time to time, and particularly during periods of market stress, the Responsible Entity may determine to close the cash redemption facility for a Fund. Each ASX Business Day, the Responsible Entity will, before open of trading, announce whether it intends to accept cash redemption requests for each Fund that day. However, even if it announces an intention to accept cash redemptions for an ASX Business Day, the Responsible Entity may reject any cash redemption request. The Responsible Entity will attempt to notify you as soon as practicable if it rejects a redemption request.

Rejection of a redemption request is notified to the relevant Unitholder and an Acknowledgement of Receipt is not issued.

A redemption of Units under a cash redemption will not be an ETF Special Trade under the ASX Operating Rules.

1.10 Settlement Procedures — Issue of Units

An applicant for Units in a Fund must appoint State Street Australia Ltd ("SSAL") as its nominee to facilitate the issue of Units to the applicant ("Applicant Nominee"). The terms and conditions on which the Applicant Nominee is appointed are set out in section 4 of this Reference Guide. The Applicant Nominee has delegated certain aspects of its functions to State Street Bank and Trust Company (“SSBT”), which in turn has delegated such functions to HSBC, including holding Units as part of the settlement procedures.

All Unit issues will settle on T+2 in accordance with the ASX Settlement Rules. On T+2 the transfer of Units from HSBC as nominee to the applicant, and the transfer in cash of the Issue Price, the Coupon Accrual Adjustment and the Transaction Fee from the applicant to HSBC as subcustodian must take place through CHESS on a DvP basis.

CHESS settlement messages must be entered in accordance with the ASX Operating Rules and the ASX Settlement Rules. Settlement messages for the transfer of Units in each Fund must be for a settlement amount of the aggregate Issue Price plus the Coupon Accrual Adjustment plus the applicable Transaction Fee for the Fund. The Responsible Entity will notify the applicant of the Transaction Fee and the Coupon Accrual Adjustment by T+1.

1.11 Settlement Procedures — Redemption of Units

Redemptions settle at the Settlement Time on T+2. On T+2 HSBC (as subcustodian) pays the redemption proceeds (plus the Coupon Accrual Adjustment minus the applicable Transaction Fee) to the redeeming Unitholder. The Units are redeemed at this time by way of transfer of the Units from the redeeming Unitholder to HSBC as subcustodian through CHESS (on a DvP basis). Upon transfer of the Units to HSBC, the Units are cancelled.

CHESS settlement messages in respect of each Fund must be entered in accordance with the ASX Operating Rules and the ASX Settlement Rules. Settlement messages for the transfer of Units in a Fund must be for a settlement amount of the aggregate Withdrawal Amount plus the Coupon Accrual Adjustment less the Transaction Fee. The Responsible Entity will notify the redeeming Unitholder of the applicable Coupon Accrual Adjustment and Transaction Fee by T+1.

Payment of the redemption proceeds is effected in CHESS through a net CHESS payment obligation.

1.12 Changes to Procedures

The Responsible Entity may vary the application and redemption procedures in relation to a Fund which are set out in this section by providing at least 5 days’ prior notice to Stockbroker Unitholders in the relevant Fund.

1.13 Stockbrokers Dealing in Units Subject to an Application

The ASIC Market Integrity Rules contain a provision which, subject to certain conditions and other relevant rules (such as the short selling rules), allows a Stockbroker to deal in Units in a Fund where the Units are the subject of an application but have not yet been delivered to the Stockbroker. The provision is an exception to the general prohibition in the ASIC Market Integrity Rules on dealing in unquoted securities.

The exception contains a number of conditions, and it is the responsibility of Stockbrokers to ensure that those conditions and other relevant rules are satisfied. The Responsible Entity, however, confirms to Unitholders in each Fund the following for the purposes of the exception:

- each Fund is an “ETF” within the meaning of the ASX Operating Rules and a Unit in a Fund is an “ETF Security”;
- except where the Responsible Entity has suspended the issue of Units in a particular Fund (see “restricted dates” above), an application for Units in a Fund is irrevocable and subject only to transfer of the subscription money and/or property from the subscriber to the Responsible Entity or its agent. However, the Responsible Entity may reject any cash application.
- the number of quoted Units on issue in each Fund is regularly reported to the ASX on the basis required by the ASX.

The Responsible Entity may withdraw this confirmation in respect of a Fund by notification to the ASX. If this occurs, the Investment Manager will notify Unitholders in the relevant Fund.

1.14 Application and Redemption Facility - Settlement Failure

Applications

If a Stockbroker applying for Units in a Fund does not comply with its settlement obligations to deliver the application moneys on T+2 in accordance with the application and redemption procedures set out above, the Units will not be issued or transferred to the applicant.

State Street Global Advisors

The applicant must unconditionally and irrevocably indemnify the Responsible Entity against all liability or loss incurred by the Responsible Entity or the relevant Fund arising from, and any costs, charges or expenses incurred in connection with, the breach of the settlement obligations.

If the Responsible Entity purchases or agrees to purchase securities in anticipation of receipt of application moneys, the applicant's indemnity covers any loss, liability or costs incurred by the Responsible Entity or the Fund associated with those transactions that arise from the breach of the settlement obligations, including:

- any default fees or charges for failing to complete transactions entered into by the Fund;
- any interest or borrowing costs incurred under any financing arrangements required because the payment was not made; and
- the difference between the amount paid by the Responsible Entity for the purchase of securities in respect of the application and the proceeds of sale of those (or other) securities in connection with cancellation of the application.

It is not necessary for the Responsible Entity to incur expense or make payment before enforcing this right of indemnity.

Redemptions

If a redeeming Unitholder does not comply with its settlement obligations to deliver the relevant multiple of Units in the Fund on T+2 in accordance with the ASX Settlement Rules, the Units will not be redeemed and the Responsible Entity will not pay the redemption proceeds.

The Unitholder must unconditionally and irrevocably indemnify the Responsible Entity against all liability or loss incurred by the Responsible Entity or the relevant Fund arising from, and any costs, charges or expenses incurred in connection with, the breach of the settlement obligation. For example, for a cash redemption request the Unitholder must indemnify the Responsible Entity for the difference between:

- (A) the amount received by the Responsible Entity in selling assets of the Fund to fund redemption proceeds; and
- (B) the amount the Responsible Entity is required to pay to repurchase those securities when the redemption fails.

It is not necessary for the Responsible Entity to incur expense or make payment before enforcing this right of indemnity.

2. Taxation

The taxation information provided below supplements the information about the tax consequences of an investment in a Fund set out in section 7 of the PDS. It is intended only to provide general information about any significant taxation implications of the application and redemption facility for each Fund. The taxation of a unit trust investment such as the Funds can be complex and may change over time. Unitholders in each Fund are recommended to seek professional tax advice in relation to their own position.

For Stockbrokers acquiring and disposing of Units in a Fund as principal as part of a securities trading business, the Units will generally constitute trading stock for tax purposes.

Where a redemption of Units in a Fund is made by a Unitholder, the redeeming Unitholder may be entitled to a Withdrawal Unit Income Entitlement in respect of those Units as well as receipt of the Redemption Price in respect of those Units on redemption. Together these components comprise the Withdrawal Amount in respect of those Units.

The Withdrawal Unit Income Entitlement essentially represents a distribution of the taxable income of the Fund based on the gains realised by the Fund as a result of redemptions of Units in the Fund and a share of the Fund's income in the relevant distribution period. The Redemption Price received for the relevant Fund will be dependent upon the extent to which that redeeming Unitholder has a Withdrawal Unit Income Entitlement, i.e. the Redemption Price is equal to the Withdrawal Amount less any Withdrawal Unit Income Entitlement

Notification of the extent to which the Withdrawal Amount for a Fund consists of a Withdrawal Unit Income Entitlement will only take place after the end of the income year (i.e. 30 June), in the annual tax statement, once the final tax calculations for the relevant Fund for that year have been completed.

Redeeming Unitholders Holding Units as Trading Stock

In calculating a Unitholder's profit or loss on disposal of Units in a Fund for tax purposes, the proceeds on disposal of the Units will be the Redemption Price in respect of those Units. On the basis that the Units are held as trading stock, a taxable profit or deductible loss will effectively arise equal to the Redemption Price less the cost (or opening tax value) of the Units.

On the basis that the Units constitute trading stock, any Withdrawal Unit Income Entitlement in respect of those Units should be treated as a normal receipt of income in the hands of the Unitholder. The Transaction Fee and Coupon Accrual Adjustment paid in respect of the redemption will be allowable as a deduction.

Redeeming Unitholders not Holding Units as Trading Stock

Where the redeeming Unitholder does not hold their Units as trading stock (i.e. not as part of a securities trading business), the Redemption Price component of the relevant Withdrawal Amount should be used in calculating the realised gain or loss on the disposal of the Units in the relevant Fund. Any Withdrawal Unit Income Entitlement will be treated as a normal distribution of the Fund's income in the hands of the Unitholder.

An alternative view may exist whereby the full Withdrawal Amount (i.e. not only the Redemption Price but also the Withdrawal Unit Income Entitlement) could be treated as the proceeds on disposal of the Units in calculating the realised gain or loss. To the extent that this results in a gain or increased gain on disposal of the Units, this means that the Withdrawal Unit Income Entitlement is taxed twice. To the extent that this results in a reduction or elimination of any loss on disposal that would otherwise offset these components, there would be a loss of the allowable deduction for such loss.

Although a principle against double taxation of income does exist as well as CGT/other assessable income anti-overlap provisions, the application of these rules is not clear where assets on revenue account are not held as trading stock. Accordingly, Unitholders not holding their Units as trading stock should be aware that if this alternative view was to be correct, there is a risk of effective double taxation, or disallowance of losses, on redemption of Units. Such Unitholders should seek independent professional taxation advice prior to redeeming Units in a Fund.

The Transaction Fee and Coupon Accrual Adjustment payable in respect of the redemption will not generally be deductible.

3. Examples of Applications and Redemptions

Set out below are some worked examples of applications and redemptions.

Example of Cash Applications and Redemptions

Assume

NAV per unit	$25.00
Units in a creation unit	100,000
NAV per creation unit	$2,500,000
Value of Application Parcel as at trade date ¹	$2,499,500
Value of Application Parcel as at settlement date ²	$2,500,390
Value of Redemption Parcel as at trade date ¹	$2,500,300
Value of Redemption Parcel as at settlement date ²	$2,501,190
Coupon Accrual Adjustment ("CAA") ³	$890
Transaction fee per application/redemption (cash application / redemption) ⁴	$4,500

1. Value of Application Parcel or Redemption Parcel may be less than, or more than, NAV per creation unit.
2. Includes income adjustment on the relevant parcel of securities between trade and settlement date.
3. This assumes that the CAA is the same for the Application Parcel and the Redemption Parcel.
4. This includes a variable "spread" amount that reflects the bid-ask spread costs the Fund will face in acquiring or disposing of the relevant securities in connection with the transaction. In this example the spread is assumed to be 0.11% or $2,750. The assumed spread percentage is included for illustrative purposes only and should not be taken to be an indication of the likely spread component of a Transaction Fee for any application or redemption.

Cash Application

	Units	NAV	$
